South Carolina Historical Marker Program

Established 1936
Before 1930

Since 1930
Sewah Studios, Marietta, Ohio
Manufacturer of South Carolina Historical Markers
Since 1954
Marker Style, 1936-1954
Marker Style, 1954-1990
Marker Style, 1990-Present
Marquis de Lafayette (1757-1834)

Lafayette

Erected by Georgetown County, 1940
Erected by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, 1968

St. Paul’s Episcopal Churchyard
Pendleton, Anderson County

BARNARD ELLIOTT BEE
Born Charleston, S. C. 1824.
Graduated West Point 1845.
Brigadier General, C.S.A., 1861.
Commanded 3rd Brigade,
Army of the Shenandoah.
July 21, 1861, at Manassas, Va.,
where he gave Gen. T. J. Jackson
the name “Stonewall.” Mortally wounded, he died July 22, 1861,
and is buried in his family plot
in St. Paul’s churchyard.

BARNARD ELLIOTT BEE
Brig. Gen‘l
C. S. Army
DIED
July 22, 1861.
of wounds received
in the Battle of Manassas
July 21, 1861.
AGED
37 Yrs &
5 Mos.
General Barnard E. Bee (1824-1861)

General Thomas J. "Stonewall" Jackson (1824-1863)
15th N.Y. Infantry, The “Harlem Hell Fighters,” at the Site of Camp Wadsworth, Spartanburg
Darlington Raceway
Darlington County

Erected 1997

The First Southern 500,
1950

Darlington Raceway, the first superspeedway in NASCAR history, was constructed in 1950 by Harold Brasington, a local race promoter who saw an asphalt-paved track as an advance over the standard dirt tracks and wanted a 500-mile stock car race to rival the Indianapolis 500. On September 4, 1950 the new mile-and-a-quarter raceway hosted the first Southern 500, a 400-lap race in which 75 cars raced at top speeds of 80 m.p.h.

(DARLINGTON RACEWAY)

Erected 1997

The First Southern 500,
1950
Mt. Zion Rosenwald School
Mars Bluff, Florence County

Listed in the National Register of Historic Places 2001

South Carolina Historical Marker
Erected 2004
Campbell's Covered Bridge

Gowensville vicinity
Greenville County
Campbell's Covered Bridge
Erected 2002

This bridge, built in 1909, is the last extant covered bridge in S.C. Built by Charles Irwin Willis (1878-1966), it was named for Alexander Lafayette Campbell (1836-1920), who owned and operated a grist mill here for many years. Measuring 35 feet long and 12 feet wide, it is an excellent example of a four-span Howe truss, featuring diagonal timbers and vertical iron rods.
Spann Methodist Church and Cemetery
Ward, Saluda County

Listed in the National Register of Historic Places 2003
South Carolina Historical Marker Erected 2005

Founded 1805
Present Church Built 1873
Spann Methodist Church and Cemetery

Captain Clinton Ward (1828-1905)

Founder of Ward's Depot (Later renamed Clintonward, then Wards, and finally Ward)
Hampton Terrace Hotel
North Augusta, Aiken County
1903–1916

Entrance and Grounds
Hampton Terrace Hotel
Marker Dedication, 2000
Marker Dedications

Mann-Simons Cottage
Columbia
2004

Mann-Simons Cottage
Columbia
2004

Savannah River Plant
Aiken County
2004

Myrtle Beach
Colored School
Horry County
2007

Captain Samuel Earle
Oconee County
2006