DESCRIPTION

Built ca. 1904, the Clarence McCall House is a one and one-half story frame house which has shiplap siding, a high brick foundation, and a high hipped roof with plain boxed cornices. Two gables interrupt the front (north) slope of the roof, and single gables project from the east and west slopes; these four gables each contain a double window with sawn floral decoration above and imbricated shingles on either side. There are two tall interior chimneys with recessed brickwork and corbeled caps on the front slope of the roof. Windows in this house are double-hung sash, one-over-one, with shelf architraves; the windows on the first floor have louvered blinds. The veranda on the north and west sides of the house is characterized by turned posts, plain curved brackets, turned balusters with a rope motif, and a pedimented gable over the entrance featuring a sunburst motif.

The front (north) elevation is asymmetrical; the single front door is flanked by two windows to the right and three to the left. The west elevation has two windows under the veranda, to the right of which is a polygonal bay that has a single window in each face and pendant brackets under its gable end. The east elevation features a polygonal bay identical to the one on the west side. The south elevation has a kitchen wing with a screened porch.

On the property is a small original barn with gable roof and weatherboard siding. This barn has double doors with a loft door above on its north side. The three-bay east and west sides have board and batten shutters in each window opening.

LEVEL OF SIGNIFICANCE:   L   (for office use only)

SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Clarence McCall House is significant as an intact example of the Queen Anne style in Darlington. The house is primarily defined by its 1½-story frame form on a high foundation with high hipped roof punctuated by tall chimneys. The rhythm of the several projecting gabled bays, and turned columns supporting the porch on three sides of the house exhibit the skill of its builder.

Little documentation exists on the early history of the Clarence McCall House. According to local tradition, David Clarence McCall owned the John Lide House on Springville Road before moving to the house located at 524 Cashua Street ca. 1890.<sup>1</sup> He lived<sup>2</sup> at this address until he built the house at 870 Cashua Street ca. 1901<sup>2</sup>. The Darlington City Directory of 1913-14 lists D. C. McCall<sup>3</sup> as living at 870 Cashua Street and working in the insurance business.<sup>3</sup> David Clarence McCall<sup>4</sup> was also a member of the S.C. House of Representatives from 1890 to 1892.<sup>4</sup>
